
Learning Portal Customization

AEC Daily Tech

The AEC Daily Learning Portal is a hosted Learning Management System (LMS) that can be customized in a number of ways to meet the needs of LP customers.

Customizations available include layout, look, and design features, as well as various visible and less visible functional customizations.

Please also refer to the Learning Portal Product Summary document while reading this document.

1 Behind The Scenes

1.1 Google Analytics Support

Customers can provide us with their Google Analytics identifier which will be used to enable automated tracking of LP activity to Google Analytics

1.2 Custom Javascript Snippets

If a customer has specific needs (e.g. in order to use other analytics platforms), a customer can provide arbitrary javascript (or other code) fragments that will appear in the header and/or footer of every page.

2 Questions?

Not all customization options are currently documented here.

If you have any questions, or are interested in other types of customization, please get in touch with your AEC Daily contact.
